

Interactive Recipe Card

A fillable template for your personal recipe journal

How to use it

This PDF has fillable fields. Open it in Adobe Acrobat Reader, Apple Preview, or most web browsers, click any field, and type. Use File > Save As to keep a filled copy, or print it blank and write by hand. The file contains two identical cards (pages 3-4) so you can duplicate the PDF to start a whole journal.

Why keep a recipe journal

Professional cooks rarely memorize; they standardize. Writing a recipe in your own words, by weight where possible, and noting what to change next time is how a dish becomes reliably repeatable. Your filled cards become a portfolio you can show (Module 12).

Field tips

- Ingredients: list quantities by weight (grams) when you can; it scales cleanly.
- Method: number the steps; note pan, heat level, and target temperatures.
- Notes: the most valuable field. Record the one change that would make it better.
- Rating + Make again: a fast signal when you flip back through the journal.

Recipe Card

The Self-Taught Chef Program - build your personal recipe journal

RECIPE NAME

CUISINE / MODULE

YIELD / SERVINGS

DATE COOKED

PREP TIME

COOK TIME

TOTAL TIME

DIFFICULTY

SOURCE / VIDEO LINK

INGREDIENTS

METHOD

NOTES & ADJUSTMENTS (WHAT TO CHANGE NEXT TIME)

RATING:

☐☐☐☐☐

(check stars) Make again?

☐

Recipe Card

The Self-Taught Chef Program - build your personal recipe journal

RECIPE NAME

CUISINE / MODULE

YIELD / SERVINGS

DATE COOKED

PREP TIME

COOK TIME

TOTAL TIME

DIFFICULTY

SOURCE / VIDEO LINK

INGREDIENTS

METHOD

NOTES & ADJUSTMENTS (WHAT TO CHANGE NEXT TIME)

RATING: ☐ ☐ ☐ ☐ ☐ (check stars) Make again?

☐